

referring to the bill on the Senate floor last Saturday. It reads, in part, as follows: "The pending bill merely covers emergencies, that is, cases where life and property are endangered, and which call for a relatively small authorization, covering a specific unit which could be constructed by itself, becoming a part of the main unit if the whole project were later authorized."

The damage this spring, alone, to farm land, cities, and villages in Minnesota and North Dakota amounted to over $10,000,000. More than 2,000,000 acres of land were under water. The ultimate cost to the Federal Government of this whole project would be less than $10,000,000. The benefits to be derived are many times this amount. The emergency nature of this proposal warrants authorization of the project and some of the funds at this time.

The Senate committee report points up the fact that the Army determined the benefit-cost ratio to be 1.88. Prior to this year's disastrous floods the estimated total cost figure to the Federal Government is $9,928,000; whereas the estimated damages this spring alone was $10,000,000.

I earnestly solicit your favorable consideration of this matter and hope you will go along with the Senate in retaining the project in the bill.

With kindest personal regards,
Very sincerely yours,

HAROLD C. HAGEN,
Member of Congress.

P. S.—The entire area was recently designated as a disaster area by the President because of the serious damage done by the severe floods this year.

Senator JOSEPH H. BALL asked me to give him some information that I thought was desirable to assist him in his efforts before the Senate Committee on Appropriations in order to get some funds for the project. My letter to him of June 16, relative to the matter, follows:

JUNE 16, 1948.

The Honorable JOSEPH H. BALL,
United States Senator,
Senate Office Building,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SENATOR: This is an emergency request, and because of the legislative situation, it is necessary for the Senate to handle it.

The legislation, H. R. 6419, approved in conference by the Committee on Public Works yesterday, included (p. 14) the Red River of the North project and an authorization in the sum of $2,000,000 for the partial accomplishment of that plan. As you know, this plan for flood control and other purposes in the Red River of the north drainage basin, includes areas of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota.

Because of the fact that H. R. 6419 had not been finally approved by the full Senate and House prior to the House passage today of the second deficiency appropriation bill, H. R. 6935 (Rept. 2348), it is necessary that the Senate Appropriations Committee be requested to insert the item of $2,000,000 in the second deficiency appropriation bill.

I know of your great interest, and that of Senator THYE, of Minnesota, and Senator YOUNG, of North Dakota, and also that of Senator LANGER, in the Red River of the North project. I know you realize the emergency situation which has arisen because of the very serious floods which have occurred during the last 2 years, 1947 and 1948. I know you are aware of the fact that there were some 15 deaths by drowning in the flood area this year, and that the property damage was conservatively estimated as over $10,000,000.

The floods of the past two seasons were the most severe since 1897. Army engineers and other authorities are fearful that these floods will now reoccur each year because of present conditions, unless the Red River of the North project is undertaken and completed.

It is most desirable to appropriate the $2,000,000 for the initial phase of this comprehensive project so that these very serious and disastrous floods will not continue to occur in this great, fertile valley, known as the bread basket of the world, and without question one of the most productive areas in the world.

Incidentally, the floods in the Red River area were by far the most severe of any in the United States this year, excepting those on the northwest Pacific coast. The entire area has been designated as a disaster area by President Truman, because of the great amount of damage suffered.

It is most imperative in this emergency that funds be provided to inaugurate this project. If the Senate will insert the amount requested, I have every hope that the House will agree to a part, if not all, of the amount requested.

Appreciating your splendid efforts in this matter, I am, with kindest wishes,
Sincerely yours,

HAROLD C. HAGEN,
Member of Congress.

Senator BALL secured approval of the Senate Appropriation Committee for $2,000,000 for a start on the Red River of the North project. This amount was included in the second deficiency bill, which was passed by the Senate in the closing days of the session.

Because of time, and since the project has not yet been authorized when the House committee had previously considered and the House had passed the second deficiency bill, no appropriation has been made for the project in the House bill.

It was then up to me to get the House members of the conference committee, which met with the Senate Conference Committee, in ironing out and compromising the differences in second deficiency bill passed by the House and the Senate.

I, personally and individually, talked to every member, both Republican and Democrat, of the conference committee on the House side in support of funds for the Red River of the North project. They then agreed on $1,000,000 as the initial appropriation for the project. This was finally approved by both the Senate and the House; and the measure was sent to the President for approval.

Tremendous interest has been shown in the over-all Red River of the North project. A general meeting of representatives of all interested communities has been called for Grand Forks, N. Dak., for Friday, July 9, 1948, to advise with Corps of United States Army Engineers relative to initial stages of Red River flood-control projects.

The general call for the meeting was issued by a long-time friend and supporter of the Red River flood-control projects, Dr. H. L. Walster, chairman of the Tri-State Waters Commission, and deal of the State college station of the North Dakota State College at Fargo, N. Dak. His letter announcing the meeting is as follows:

TRI-STATE WATERS COMMISSION,
STATE COLLEGE STATION,
Fargo, N. Dak.

Hon. HAROLD C. HAGEN,
Crookston, Minn.

DEAR SIR: In regard to meeting at Grand Forks, N. Dak., Council Room, City Hall, 3 p. m., Friday, July 9, to advise with Corps of United States Army engineers relative to initial stages of Red River flood-control projects.

You are aware of the fact that the Congress recently authorized further flood-control projects on streams of the Red River of the North Basin in the amount of $9,400,000. In the last few days of the session an appropriation of $1,000,000 was made to the Corps of Engineers to begin work in 1949.

In order to determine the order in which the several units should be forwarded through the necessary additional planning and construction the Corps of Engineers have indicated that a basin-wide meeting of local interests will be helpful. As chairman of the Tri-State Waters Commission I have initiated this call. Invitations have been extended to the governors, Senators, and Congressmen of the area. Those to whom this notice is sent are urged to make a special effort to bring with them officers of municipalities (townships, villages, cities, and counties) from the areas to be affected by the projects.

Enclosed herewith is a brief statement of the proposed improvements as authorized, including estimated Federal costs, and estimated costs to local interests.

This meeting will also be considered an officially called meeting of the Tri-State Waters Commission.

Yours very truly,

H. L. WALSTER,
Chairman, Tri-State Waters Commission.

Mr. Speaker, this over-all Red River of the North flood-control project will be of benefit to every farmer, to every person, in northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota. To have funds to start work on the project is important to every individual in the area. It is a great satisfaction to me to have taken part in securing a million dollars to start work, even though approximately nine million or more in Federal funds will be needed to finish the work.

The Senate Committee on Public Works said in its report: "The committee is convinced that flood control and water conservation in the Red River drainage basin are desirable for the economic welfare of the citizens of the area." The committee knows that to complete this project will be a progressive step forward for the benefit of all people, in all parts of our land, because the result will be increased production in the Red River Valley.

I want to continue to fight for additional appropriations for the completion of this project. I assure the people of the Ninth Congressional District of Minnesota that, given the opportunity, I will continue to do my best toward completion of the over-all Red River of the North flood-control project. The cooperation of our present Minnesota Senators, and many civic-minded individuals residing in the district, has been of immeasurable help. That kind of cooperation in the future will see all parts of the project completed.
