Description

Really? An R Rated halftime show? I chose to not go see the R rated movie Hustler but did not expect to see so much nastiness on TV. To bend over and show that thin piece of fabric between her butt cheeks crossed the line. It wasn't a concert, it was a football game being broadcast into my home by a local station by the airwaves be for families to watch together. How rude and obscene. It wasn't the beach or a resort, it was my living room!

The 2020 Super Bowl Half Time Show contained indecent, sexual, and risqué content that was unsuitable for all viewers especially young viewers. The performers exposed areas of the lower buttocks, abdomen, and cleavage. This content was clearly obscene, and should not have been broadcast. I believe FOX should be subject to regulatory penalties for broadcasting obscene content not suitable for public viewing.

The halftime show for the 2020 superbowl was COMPLETELY inappropriate. This should be a family friendly show. Because of the completley inappropriate performances by JLo and Shakira we were exposed to an adult only show that you would see in Las Vegas. I am completely disappointed that this is acceptable to show on television. I am disgusted that these performances were not censored before hand. If they were censored, they weren't censored adequately. I feel bad for my daughters who think that type of behavior is acceptable and that they should dress and perform inappropriate acts.

Description

Jennifer Lopez's performance at the Super Bowl halftime show was extremely explicit and completely unacceptable for an event where families including children are watching. Her performance involved numerous shots of her barely covered crotch and buttocks as she gyrated and made sexual movements all over the stage. I had to send my children out of the room so that they weren't exposed to something they should not have seen. She should not be allowed to perform at something like that ever again. Shame on the NFL for allowing that performance to happen. I am not sure how to censure her or those involved in choreographing that performance but it was disgusting. Sure with all of the funding for the half time event they can come up with something entertaining and acceptable for a TV audience that includes children and youth. I get like I couldn't even enjoy it. If someone wants to see that there are plenty of places to view that type of garbage but the super bowl halftime show is not it. That is completely unacceptable! Get her off the air!

What part of such displays makes women appear anything more than meat? It is a sad commentary at minimum. Had a man attempted to appear in bottomless chaps and a thong it never would have made it on air.....yet when Jennifer Lopez does it....it airs? It's truly sad a woman of such beauty, talent and ability was either exploited or exploiting. Either way, it should not have aired.

Please do something about the pornographic and indecent NFL's Superbowl Halftime Show. This year was a disgrace. Parents and children are watching this program and the halftime show was nothing but a gyrating, pole dancing, lingerie show. How is that appropriate for public viewers? There are young, impressionable children watching the Superbowl with family and friends and this indecent performance comes on? Why would this type of choreography even be approved on a family program? There was no public warning given about the indecent nature about to be seen on the halftime program. Why isn't this show g or pg rated? If it isn't g or pg rated than adults/parents need fair warning about the indecent nature of the content of the program. Please address this so this does not happen again. The halftime shows have been going downhill due to similar concerns like this, but this year was just awful and is beyond inappropriate for family viewing. Please help protect the public, especially our children. Thank you.

I don't understand how it is appropriate for Jennifer Lopez's ass to be in the faces of my children during the Superbowl halftime show. What is wrong with FOX and the NFL and frankly, the FCC for allowing this? JLo was not only wearing a thong but bent over and showed her whole butt to the camera. Also, FOX cameramen kept zooming in on her crotch throughout her performance AND at one point her backup dancers were simulating an orgy while she writhed around on a stripper pole. How is this family programming in prime time? If that doesn't violate standards of decency then there are no standards of decency. You should investigate and fine Fox for this. Wow. I am so disappointed that a half time show such as the one that was shown today is allowed to be aired on television. The Super Bowl is historically a family event. As such, pole dancing is completely inappropriate.

The host of the party my family and I were at (with daughters aged 10 and 12) turned off the TV at the pole dancing point. I had to have a discussion with my girls about how the women on the stage were being objectified and that this kind of thing was not OK in any situation.

I expect that you will take action against the NFL and that in the future you will be proactive and preview half time shows before they are performed on live TV. It is your job to be the watchdog here and you failed.

That show was absolutely disgusting and not appropriate for children. I'm not sure what the NFL or FOX was thinking but several close up shots of Jennifer Lopez's crotch is not family entertainment Neither was her routine on the stripper pole.

If this performance goes unchecked then I'm not really sure why the FCC exists In the first place. NONE of what we just saw is suitable for younger viewers.....including her buttless chaps.

Around 8 pm EST, I witnessed numerous crotch shots with so little fabric covering that a clinch would have made it indistinguishable from a pure crack. Leather pants fully exposing butt cheeks, pole dancing, twerking, simulated orgies, and sexual gyrations, crotch grabs, and pelvic thrusts were all in front of my family and friends with preschoolers and elementary age students. We were watching an NFL football game, not HBO. Are thongs and assless chaps considered appropriate attire before 10 pm on network television now? At a minimum censor bars and blurs should have been required.

The performances by Shakira and Jennifer Lopez during the 2020 Superbowl Halftine show were absolutely inappropriate for family viewers. The super bowl halftime show was terrible. There was no decency to the entire show. Both main performers felt the need to lower the degradation of women to crotch shots, pelvic thrusts including o the nasty pole dancing that only good for dark and dingy bars in the Bronx where Lopez came from. If she likes that kind of stuff she should keep to her bedroom and leave the rest of us out of it. Women are more than sexual objects and I am trying to raise my girls to be proud of who they are. I am trying to teach them that they don't have to sexually exploit themselves in order to be loved. To the creators of the show... I will be sure to turn off the game at that time next year. The show should have come with a warning label and show rating so Parents knew they should have turned it off. also, I wish to have sent this anonymously but I wasn't allowed because (for some reason) it was required.

Description

Superbowl Halftime show: the show was vulgar, and that's not just because, in keeping with all Latin dancing going back to the early 20th century, there was a lot of hip shaking. Few people are going to get bent out of shape by that traditional Latin American dance dynamic.

While shaking hips are now old hat, there were still a lot of vulgar moves and costumes in the halftime show:

Shakira implied bondage by wrapping a rope around herself.

Bevies of athletic young women thrusting their pelvises at the TV cameras.

Shakira writhed on the floor as a rapper bent over her body.

J-Lo and her back-up dancers wore leather bondage outfits reminiscent of the leather gear fetish gay men wore in San Francisco's Folsom District in the 1970s and 1980s.

J-Lo and her male backup dancers kept grabbing their own crotches.

J-Lo did some pole dancing in a minimalist costume that barely covered her lady parts, while presiding over what is meant to look like an orgy, with people in white bondage wear writhing below her (plus more crotch-grabbing).

J-Lo freak dancing, which happens when a woman backs her butt up to a man's crotch and they rub against each other as they dance.

Degrading and utterly disgusting, far beyond "community standards" of decency, and much worse than the Jackson incident. We live in eastern Kansas, but have no TV, thus took our 9 yo daughter to our local small-town sports bar to watch the game.

She's a farm girl, so understands sex, but could not stop asking "Mama, what's all this?" Totally confused, and as she emerges into her young womanhood, absolutely abused. My wife and I did our best to use it as an object lesson, but when half the guys in the bar are voicing their disapproval and just looking down at the table ... you know something is very wrong.

Fox, and perhaps Pepsi, deserve a massive and painful fine so that nobody ever tries this barf-worthy nonsense again.

Date: 2/3/2020 9:16:30 AM

City/State/Zip: Cudahy, Wisconsin 53110

Description

Super Bowl Half Time Show was inappropriate for children to watch. Why was this not kept in mind when millions of children and teenagers would be watching at the early hour of 8:00/7:00/6:00/5:00? Crotch shots, thongs, butt flashing. Sends a message to young women that no matter how successful or talented you are, you MUST expose your body in costumes barely covering you genitalia. And why why WHY is butt flashing included? Show left me very upset and I am a liberal person...not part of religious right. Show undermines all organizations and programs focused on girls respecting themselves! Inappropriate costumes and writhing for a broadcast watched during family viewing time.

I felt that the halftime show put on by J Lo and Shakira was horribly inappropriate for what was undoubtedly being watched by millions of children throughout the world. The outfits the singers were wearing barely covered their private parts, and the fact that J Lo actually used a stripper pole during the show is absolutely disgusting. It is unbelievably sad that this show was billed as something that would "empower women" . . . this is what we want young girls to strive for??? The halftime show on this year's Super Bowl was a pornographic disgrace. If this had been regular programming, it would have come with a rating and a warning. Pepsi and the NFL pretend to care about sexual misdeeds and harassment; however, this show proves them to be hypocrites. I do not understand how this could have been aired, knowing children and teens would be watching! It was inexcusable, and something should have been done to stop it. Thank You.

Description

The halftime show was completely disgusting and not family-friendly at all. The dancers were half naked and the cameras were zooming in on their rear ends while they shook them in our faces. Young children and even adults shouldn't be exposed to this on "family friendly" tv. The rules on this need to be evaluated. J-lo even bent over and exposed her entire rear end in a thong and spread her legs with a tiny piece of fabric between her crotch hole and the camera. I'm appalled. The company should be fined hefty for this. What are you teaching young girls? Dance around half naked to make men excited then claim #metoo for harassment? It's ok to be some sexual being and shake your naked rear end and expose your crotch and dance on a pole in front of the world?

Dear FCC,

I'm so disappointed in the NFL, Pepsi, and Fox Sports for their raunchy, low-class half-time show. For so many of us, the Super Bowl is a family entertainment affair and is no place for stripper poles, crotch-grabbing, and hyper-sexualization. My family and I literally said to one another, "What the hell were they thinking?", and then we turned off our TV.

Please consider punitive action against the NFL, Pepsi, Fox Network, and even the title performers for their lewd performance. And, please consider updating or amending the FCC's decency standards to prevent this trash from being broadcast during the largest family television event of the year.

Thank you,

The cameras were relentless with the nonstop crotch shots and hip thrusts of the performers, which viewed on a large screen TV left little to the imagination. The scantily clad butt shots of JLo, especially when she turned to the cameras and bent over, was nothing short of hard porn. Her pole dancing was despicable as the barely dressed dancers beneath her simulated an orgy. None of this is acceptable for Prime Time TV. This performance was far worse than the nipple slip by Janet Jackson a few years back. In addition to all the sexually suggestive and exposed skin all while children are on stage and in the background as well as the millions of children watching is exposing America's youth to oversexualized themes that are not appropriate or in line with the FCC's viewing regulations for prime time television broadcasts. I know my opinion won't make a bit of difference, but I want you to know I was disgusted with the halftime show at the Super Bowl. I am sitting there with my 2 teenage sons, while we saw quite a few pelvic thrusts, butt shakes,... How is this good for anyone except for the performers who will make money off the publicity? I could hardly believe it when I saw J.Lo start off her bit holding onto a pole...was she going to do a pole dance? Then she comes down the stairs in a little thing that barely covered her genitals. Then she turns around and does a twerk motion with her bare butt right in the camera? I have the image of JLo's open butt right in front eyes...that's when I changed the station. My sons had to go to bed with the image of JLo open rear end... Seriously, the irony of it all. I was seeing ads for women during the super bowl, an ad noting the female coach for San Fran. 49ers, the ad with a woman astronaut, but then I get Shakira singing while she ties her arms up like she is in bondage...? Are you freaking kidding me! This just put the women's movement, time's up movement, etc. back 5 years. And don't tell me it's an expression of art or that it liberates women, what liberates women is knowing they don't have to be sexy to have value. It's their mind and good nature that should be promoted not the pleasure their body will provide.

Fox should be ashamed of itself. I know it's all about money, it will get people talking, JLo and Shakira will make money off this...but at what cost to the rest of us? Did Fox preview the show? If they did, which they should have, they should have said it was too sexy for a show meant for families. You know parents are fighting to keep their kids pure in a media culture that is determined to rob them of a clean, positive and wholesome society. I hope this complaint gets to someone that can make a difference.

The NFL are hypocrites, On one hand they fine their players for the abuse they do to women and children and on the other hand promote sleaziness on their half time show. What type of message are they trying to send, that it is ok for young girls to get the idea that it is somehow acceptable to show your butt and crotch to the world ? How about presenting a wholesome image for family's to respect an gain value from. NFL and Fox should be fined severely for promoting such trash in a prime time event

I'm very disappointed that Fox considers this family friendly entertainment. The majority of it was kind of ok. There were way too many shot of barely covered rear ends and way too many crotch shots. I don't know if the performer was to blame or the camera man or both. I have a fun time explaining to my child why someone prances around on tv in barely there clothing and gyrates on a stripper pole. Other than the pole, crotch shots, and rear end shot it was tolerable but something really needs to be done. Everyone wonders why the Superbowl has lost viewers....ummmm, this is part of the reason why.

Description

J-Lo's performance was the most pornographic, inappropriate, and outright nasty display of raunchiness seen during a supposedly family-friendly sports event. Many families with children watched this awesome game and were subjected to J-Lo's obscene nastiness of a show. I no longer have children at home; but I was totally offended and refused to watch the rest of the half-time show.

If this were any other venue, it would have been classified as an adult film display, especially when there were pole dancers, fallacio simulations, and more sexually-imitated acts . I hope that the FCC still has policies in place that would label J'Lo's performance as pornographic. Fox and J'Lo should be fined significantly to ensure families with children do not have to be subjected to such pornographic displays in the future. Our children deserve better.

I was shocked at the sexual extent of this show. Do they not know thousands of kids and adults, who don't appreciate it, are watching, I recommend you turn off the sound and watch the show? What is being advocated here? What is Pepsi sponsoring? On the edge of pornography. Speaking from a man who has been happily married for some time my wife and I were both embarrassed as we sat with other friends and their family. Then Jennifer Lopez got on a pole...At that point We watched something else instead. I'm done with the halftime show in the future until they clean it up and offer a show that ALL can appreciate.

The half time show was very sexual in nature. I have never seen so many sex poses outside porn magazines. Sliding slowly down a pole that went optically between her legs was bad enough, but the sexy tongue wagging, butt shaking, spread legs and vaginal shots was embarrassing and nasty. THEN followed by a number of kids running out with the football, have you lost all sense of decency? As a parent, I was appalled. No more Pepsi in this house and I hope to influence other parents. It was vulgar and unacceptable. Commercials? They have gone from very very good in the 80's to the worst I've seen in advertising career. The game was awesome and from now on that is the only thing we all plan to watch. Boycotting PepsiCo.

Super Bowl is very much loved event by minors who appreciate sport and aspire to become athletes in the future and should not be exposed to sexual content programming while watching the sporting event of the year. The amount of nudity and explicit content (singer dressed in thong, which reveals almost all body parts that should not be showed and zoomed in on during family programming, butt shaking, poll dancing, etc.). I was embarrassed and upset to have my kids see this program and had to turn the program off. The highly-sexual performance of JLo and supporting artists was patently offensive to most viewers, especially children and women. It's focus on the performers' genitalia and posteriors removed any artistic quality that might have been present in the music or performance. This is a production issue. The choreographic choice of the performer - a different issue - was to present women as sexual objects that exist only for self-gratification (masturbation), or to sexually arouse men. The performer decided to shock instead of entertain.

I demand that the FCC investigate and levy decency fines and punishment on both the FOX network and the performers.

Description

Strip tease by Shakira and pole dance by J. Lopez were disgustingly inappropriate, especially when families/children were watching. At the least, there should have been content warnings (rated R for sex and nudity) repeatedly during the first half of the football game so families could have prepared to avoid the half time debacle. I was expecting fun, sunny salsa music that everyone might get up and dance to for a half time stretch - not dark, sultry, leather crotch shots and blazing sequin tit shimmies. Fine in the adult bedroom, unbelievable in a prime time family viewing football half time show. Crass and shameful. Please do something to make half time as good as the football game.

I'm hardly a fan of censorship, nor a prude. I don't even have a problem with nudity, at least within reason. However, this year's Super Bowl halftime show was beyond the pale. Jennifer Lopez would have been cited in practically every town in this country for indecent exposure. The backup "dancers" were all but having sex on stage, or may well have been for all we could tell. Meanwhile she's grinding like a lap dancer.

Despite our increasingly hyper-sexualized culture, there are still children out there, and parents shouldn't need to send them out of the room during a football game. I changed the channel pretty quickly, but I think the world got a view second only to her gynecologist. At some point, don't we have to say enough?

The half time show displayed women as sexual objects. Men we're fully dressed, in fact, with jackets, full sleeve shirts and long pants (except for the orgy scene where they had some stupid strap like top on, but still full pants). Women were barely dressed, and except for strips of fabric less than a finger's width, would have been naked. The grabbing of one's genitals on screen (above clothing) is also wildly sexual and graphic and, again, only the females were so degraded as to perform sexual acts on stage. I seriously can't believe this is acceptable prime time programming where we're supposed to treat woman as humans beings and not sex objects and that is all that was on display for this show.

To resolve issues like this, perhaps, a little modesty, treatment of men and women the same for outfits (where we don't lower the clothes men wear, we up the clothes woman wear) and they're treated with respect.

My entire family is completely appalled at the disgusting use of women's bodies during the halftime show on Fox, superbowl 2020. This is scary and completely unnecessary, the amount of female genitalia that was exposed, along with pornographic imagery. Please, please, take some initiative to stop that type of material from being displayed for public consumption. The entire country should be hurting.

Description

I was horrified at the totally inappropriate halftime show during the Superbowl on 02/02/2020. Women were objectified and sexualized by two performers who SHOULD know better since they are members of the movement to stop the objectification and sexualization of women. We all might as well have gone to the local strip bar for the show. But to make it worse, it was in front of CHILDREN during the prime time hours so that this disgusting display was for all kids to see. As soon as we saw what was going on, we turned it off, but in the words of Ray Stevens in The Streak, we'd "already been incensed". I thought the FCC monitored stuff like that. I guess the FCC doesn't care any more than the NFL. They should be fined.

We seem to make progress in awareness of objectifying women, and then something like the half time show of a world televised event like the Super Bowl, takes us in such different directions than progress. Human trafficking, prostitution, and pornography are rampant during the days of the Super Bowl. The half time show, exacerbates the issues. Is this really what we want for our people? The Super Bowl is somewhat of a family event. The half time show was nothing I want our families to experience. It is sad and disturbing that the show was approved and aired!

I couldn't get it off fast enough. I was watching with my 4 young boys and had no idea what was about to hit their young eyes...and my eyes. I didn't know who was performing and what it was expected to be...but during prime time, that shouldn't be necessary. It was completely inappropriate and the NFL should be held accountable. They know better and have been blasted on it before. The FCC has a part to play in protecting the general public on public airwaves and should take action to ensure this doesn't happen again. At a very minimum, the public should be warned that there is going to be explicit programming and that parents should take action to move their children away from the eroticism that is going to be displayed. Thank you in advance for taking action.

Description

The NFL broke all rules of decency by NOT posting Parental Discretion (NC-17 or MA) Warning to the Super bowl half-time show. WHY? It should have been posted that the following show would be beyond an R-rating, that porn would be the main focus of the half-time show, that parental guidance would need to be used, that no one under 18 years of age should be allowed to watch the simulated orgy and highly sexual content. You FAILED the decent every American family by allowing this "men's club" activity to be brought into our homes. In an age where you can't compliment a woman, for fear of becoming a Me-Too statistic, you allowed these women to simulate an orgy and every form of sex on stage and in front of our children without a WARNING. You should apologize to the American public. The "entertainment industry" and NFL just promoted a woman as, "just F_ _ _ me, that's what I want", "I can't stop thrusting my hips", "I want an orgy", "I am a sex object". You should be ashamed for allowing that kind of content! I know you cannot totally control the "artist", but you should have some STANDARDS to which they should abide. The Super bowl is a FAMILY event, not a "men's club" night. Post a WARNING to the content. Just in case you need help discerning what rating should have been--it was NC-17 or MA. It was a SEX SHOW. Either control the content of the artist or post a WARNING. You should fine the NFL millions.

This is supposed to be a family entertainment event, but the singers were wearing extremely revealing costumes (e.g. Lopez's thong and chaps - exposing her body both front and back) and incredibly overtly sexual performance - e.g. dancing on a stripper's pole. In an era of #MeToo and women being exploited, it is disheartening to see the Super Bowl, arguably a family-oriented broadcast, stoop to the level of hyper-sexualization of females during the half-time show. I find the outfits, suggestive moves and even the provocative nature of the performance unfitting for the so-called "National Pastime".

During the broadcast, the NFL even glorified that the game featured its first-ever female coach to be in the game. What a stark dichotomy in its representation of women.

I have an 8 year old grand daughter that thinks it's ok to throw her legs over her head and shake her "behind" because she has "seen it on tv"...what kind of message does this send to our small girls? I was really hoping this year it would be a better half time show but needless to say I was very disappointed in it..it was on the scale of a strip club act and I think citizens under 21 are not allowed to go in and watch but this show was open to any and all age that wanted to watch...I am ashamed of TV for allowing this king of trash to be shown ...

The behavior of the SuperBowl Halftime show was nothing more than pornographic and should not have been broadcast. There is no reason that should have been shown with the high likelihood that children were viewing.

I was absolutely offended by the half time show during the 2020 Superbowl on Fox on 2-2-2020. Stripper poles and scantily clad women are not a message that should be broadcast to the entire world during prime time television when families are gathered. No one should have to have their child turn the other way during a football game or a half time show. Watching this was just like having a strip club on the t.v.

I am hoping that FOX can be removed from being a broadcaster of the Superbowl. They do not have any couth or judgement.

The 54th super bowl halftime show was disgusting, vulgar, and inappropriate for the wide range of ages in the audience. There was was gyrating, pole dancing, crotch grabbing, and writhing on the floor in sexual ways. Who approved this routine to be displayed on national television?!! It was awful.

The halftime show was disgusting and totally inappropriate for family viewing. The network and the NFL should both be fined. Please don't let this happen again.

Yesterday the NFL featured a halftime show which included the glorification of sex work during a time when trafficking victims are being assaulted in record breaking numbers. The camera angles included shots of exposed buttocks and close shots of the performers crotch when she spread her legs on a stripper pole in a see through outfit with sequins. There was no warning. The superbowl was full of child spectators in the live audience as well as in millions of homes across America. They should have either not allowed children in the venue and provided a parental guidance warning or not featured stripping in their halftime show. This needs to stop.

Description

That Half-Time show was lewd and indecent! That was NOT family-friendly, and the network should be ashamed of themselves for airing it. Especially since you have been playing commercials regarding the evils of Sex Trafficking, as we have been leading up to the Super Bowl. The entertainers were putting on a show that should have been in Vegas, for adults only, not during the middle of a football game that children, and impressionable young teens, are viewing with their friends and family! It was disgusting!!! (b) (6) (Scottsdale, AZ educator)

The Superbowl halftime show was pure filth and not suitable for on air broadcast. Pole dancing, crotch grabbing, simulated sex acts, and even a brief masturbation by J-low all beamed into our family TV room!

Totally inappropriate, and wrong!

I found the Superbowl 2020 Half time show absolutely over sexualized. All my friends and I had to send our children out of the room. There was barely anything covering Jennifer Lopez when she practically mooned the tv camers and then also spreading her legs and grabbing her crotch. What kind of message were they trying to communicate by having girls dancing on stripper poles. Really, you want women not to be viewed as objects of sex and they allowed this type of performance!?!?!? If it's going to be a family friendly show then there needs to be certain clothing attire. Not G strings up butts barely covering anything.

It was a disgusting strip tease on regular tv. This needs to be addressed. There are young people that are told that they are to respect women and then they see that.

It's a football game not a porn movie. There needs to be a line drawn somewhere.

I was appalled by the recent halftime show. Not only was it degrading to women but it was sexually explicit and I would hope the FCC can do something to restrict such shows in the future. In an era where sex trafficking is increasing such programs only tend to feed the problem. If I wanted to see this type of activity I would go to a strip club. Instead, my living room was invaded by this. I should not have to restrict viewing for my children it what is to be a family TV program. I hope there is some way you can fine FOX TV, Pepsi and the NFL for sponsoring such a program. Note I marked the start as 6:00pm but the time encompassed the whole broadcast as they would play ads for the halftime show throughout.

Description

The sexually explicit content of the Super Bowl half-time show was entirely unsuitable for children on a nationally televised show. It was wrong for the performers to do, wrong for the NFL and Fox to promote, and wrong for you to allow. The family event of watching the big game together turned into parents turning off the half-time show, or desperately trying to justify both the MeToo movement AND pole dancing on TV to their children. An outrageous and impossible and ask.

You are the last regulatory barrier in defending our children from extremely inappropriate subject matter. Please, step up to that challenge.

The only thing separating the viewers at home from seeing JLo's asshole was a black thong. Also, the constant crotch shots and crotch grabbing was appalling. Not to mention whatever the hell Shakira was trying to lick during her performance. We thought the halftime shows during the super bowl were supposed to be family friendly, but they most certainly were not.
